

SOMEONE ELSE WOMAN

Silently mine you're moving inside a wondering mind
Carefully yours I'm waiting for some hope anytime
In other hands now you're crying alone for an answer again
Almost the same, waiting for the way I can stop the rain

We're living in a ghetto
Closing all the windows
Sleeping on our sorrow

Many girls around, I'm trying, but you're there so many times
You'd rather tell me all about , just give me a sign
Falling in love with someone else woman, silent love
All the storm grows very deep inside, better be mad

They're living in a ghetto
Closing all the windows
Sleeping on there sorrow
Wondering about tomorrow
